U-Multirank 2018: for the fifth consecutive year, the Polytechnic Institute of Bragança is considered the best Portuguese University of Applied Sciences

The IPB was once again highlighted under the U-Multirank (www.u-multirank.eu), a ranking promoted and financed by the European Union. In the 2018 edition, the U-Multirank evaluated and ranked more than 1600 higher education institutions (HEI) from 94 countries all over the world. According to the parameters defined, the institutions were evaluated in 35 indicators, grouped in five performance groups: teaching and learning, research, knowledge transfer, international orientation, and regional engagement. The ranking of the institutions is established according to the number of classification with the maximum score (category A) in the 35 indicators under evaluation.

The Polytechnic Institute of Bragança is, for the fifth consecutive year, in the 1st place of the Portuguese Polytechnic system (Universities of Applied Sciences) and the 7th position among all Portuguese Universities. The maximum scores obtained are the result of years of expertise, namely in the areas of impact and excellence in the scientific production and in applied research, in the international mobility of students, and in the regional engagement.

The complete ranking of Portuguese HEIs at 2018 U-Multirank can be found at http://portal3.ipb.pt/images/ipb/2018_PT_u-multirank_global.pdf.

In particular, the Polytechnic Institute of Bragança is placed in the 5th position at the research sub-ranking - "readymade ranking in research and research linkages":
